

A Vision Statement: IRSS Web Page Editor (2009)

Dr. Manish Joshi, India

www.manishjoshi.info

joshmanish@gmail.com

I propose to follow the primary responsibilities of an IRSS web page editor mentioned in the IRSS constitution.

While holding this office, I shall concentrate on following issues:

1. Content Editing: Being an information website, we must concentrate on providing fresh information. The frequency of uploading relevant information should be increased. In order to avail adequate information for publishing I propose to appoint IRSS web representatives. These representatives would collect and send information about the proposed events in their area. Detailed reports about the events shall also be published. Let's motivate delegates to share their experiences about any event from this platform. Besides this we should provide facility on the web site so that any institution or an academician can communicate us about any proposed event related to Rough Set.

Different resources regarding rough set must be made available through this gateway.

2. Maintenance: I propose to develop an annual standard website maintenance checklist. A group of peers shall check certain aspects of the website regularly.
3. Proactive: We should make the website proactive. We can provide RSS feed facility so that anyone can get the intimation about the website information update quickly and easily through his/her reader. We should seek comments from the visitors.